Featured Destination: Australia

Australia is set to be the destination on everyone's lips towards the latter part of the year as the country gears up for one of the most exciting promotional periods in decades with the November release of Baz Luhrmann's epic new film, Australia. Already one of the most desirable destinations in the world, this outback romance is only going to fuel the desire for travel Down Under.

Australia also offers an outstanding portfolio of experiences for the corporate meeting and incentive market - from high-end culture and sophistication, to rustic, nature-based team building and meeting locations.

Tropical Cairns is one of the world's oldest meeting places and Brisbane's freshness and vitality will take you by surprise. And from hot air ballooning over Melbourne's city skyline, to surf lessons on Whitehaven Beach, and climbing Sydney's Harbour Bridge, the incentive options in Australia are endless. These destinations are now more accessible through the services of Air New Zealand.

Its Aboriginal foundations and multicultural influences are reflected in the nations food, lifestyle, cultural practices and experiences. This creates an environment that is innovative and highly conducive to doing business and holding business events.

It is a welcoming place where ideas thrive. So bring your clients, bring your people – and be inspired in Australia.
